5-DAY ALBERTA DEER HUNT

DONATED BY: Chad Lenz, Savage Encounters Inc.

Located northwest of Calgary near Caroline, Alberta, Savage Encounters finds its home nestled at the base of the eastern foothills of the Canadian Rocky Mountains. Its hilly and swampy terrain with good cover of large pines and aspen guarantee that potential game reach maturity. This area is known worldwide for its excellent trophy game.

This 5½-day hunt is for mule deer, whitetail deer and wolf. Alberta is a sleeper for great mule deer and there are some monsters here. Most of Alberta is on draw for mule deer and with limited pressure and great habitat big bucks happen. There are mule deer in the 140"-200" class and clients usually see large herds. Most mule deer hunts are conducted by stalking or stand hunting near crop land or logging blocks. If you're looking for a massive muley, look no more.

Alberta is renowned for its large whitetail deer, tipping the scales at well over 300 pounds, and our area is no exception. We have whitetail bucks in the 130"-200" class and our clients usually see a couple of these giants within range each week along with smaller bucks and does. All of our whitetail hunts are conducted from tree stands or ground blinds, hunting crop or timber country.

Chad "Savage" Lenz has lived in, and hunted this area for more than 35 years, giving him the advantage of experience when it comes to guiding hunters to the best possible locations. With 4x4 crew cabs, amphibious ATV's, horses, and quads, you'll find yourself safely arriving at your hunting area on time.

PERMIT REQUIREMENTS: Nonresidents are guaranteed tags with no draw through Savage Encounters. The cost of licenses and other fees are not included (~$1,100).

BISON HUNT ON THE FLYING D RANCH, MONTANA

DONATED BY: Michael J. Opitz

The Flying D Ranch is a spectacular, 115,000-acre property located just south of Bozeman, Montana. The property operates as a working ranch managed for the production of bison and other wildlife.

Your hunt will be 1½ days in length. You are welcome to bring up to three guests with you at no charge. We will pick you up at your hotel or meet you at our office in Bozeman between 5:00-7:00 pm the evening before your scheduled hunt day. On this evening scouting trip, we will look at the bison and the other wildlife on the ranch. We will also sight in your rifle. Early the next morning (6:00 am), we will pick you up at your hotel or meet at the office.

Once the animal is harvested, we will set it up for great pictures, field dress it and then take it to the meat processor/taxidermist. Taxidermy and processing not included.

Lunch is included in your hunt. We will have a cooler with drinks available to you in the field.

The large, mature bull bison are absolutely fearless. They like to be out in the open so that they can see their surroundings. While hunting big bulls, one of two things will happen. The bull will turn and look for the hunter or turn and walk away. Watch their tail, if it is straight up they are agitated. Bison are not dumb. They are confident that they can handle any situation. This is one of the reasons we are usually able to get within a 100 yards.

3-DAY COLORADO PRONGHORN HUNT

DONATED BY: Michael J. Opitz

This three-day hunt will be conducted in a game rich area of central Colorado. The antelope rifle season is typically the first 10 days of October. The hunt dynamics are post-rut and the antelope tend to be in much larger, mixed-sex groups, sometimes numbering 50 plus animals. Hunting strategies include using decoys and spot and stalk. These hunts are guaranteed licenses due to landowner permits and normally produce better than average trophy bucks.

All of our hunting is conducted on well-managed private property where we have exclusive hunting rights. By utilizing a system of pre-planned hunts on these ranches, it is unlikely that you will encounter other hunters while in the field. We limit the numbers of hunters in the field and a firearms safety code is strictly enforced.

Sept 15, 2020

John,
I wore this hat during the peak of my career when I was Hunting Editor of Outdoor Life and had my TV show. It was stomped on by a couple horses, survived many snowstorms, and withstood many other incidents.

This hat has seen countless bull fights, horseback rides, boat and many other forms of station. Many of which shouldn't even taken.

Sweat and dust represent the outdoors. If this hat talk it would be some crazy, wild from Alaska to Africa.

FREE-RANGE Aoudad Sheep Hunt in West Texas

DONATED BY: Greg Simons, Wildlife Systems, Inc.

Indigenous to the Atlas Mountains and Barbary Coast of Northern Africa, aoudad sheep, commonly referred to as Barbary sheep, were introduced into the Northern Panhandle and Trans-Pecos regions of Texas in the late 1950's in an effort to establish a new big game hunting opportunity. They have since flourished from a few dozen animals during release period to well over 25,000 free ranging animals in Western Texas alone.

Wildlife Systems, Inc. has generously donated this hunt for one hunter for free-ranging aoudad sheep to take place in the big, unspoiled country of West Texas. This is a 3½ day, 4-night program and includes meals, lodging, guide (1x1), and game care. Average rams that have been taken in recent years sport horns that are 30" - 33" in length, but larger rams are taken every year.

On a scale of 1 -10, the physical difficulty of this hunt normally ranges from a 6 - 8 but can be highly variable and it's recommended that the hunter be at least modestly in condition and capable of comfortably walking across rocky, broken terrain that often requires some climbing.

Non-resident hunting licenses can be purchased online or over the counter and are only $48. WSI is an award-winning outfitting and wildlife management firm that's been in business since 1987 and still co-owned and operated by its founder, wildlife biologist and conservation-activist, Greg Simons.
